

MOUNTAIN ASH LIBRARY

A vibrant multi-generational community library space

The Mountain Ash library space in Rhondda Cynon Taf is in the heart of the town and benefits from a central location next door to the Community Hub. The hub also houses an advice service, community cafe and bookable rooms - all under one roof, encouraging more people to make use of the services.

The library moved to its present location in 2019 to ensure it could offer residents a modern library service.

Rhondda Cynon Taf Library Service invested in our Cantilibra™ shelving system to provide a light, bright and airy library space. By selecting the Cantilibra™ range, the library has autonomy regarding the lay out and display of their book stock as the mobile shelving can be moved and rearranged quickly and simply.

The space is divided into an IT and computer-access space, a main lending library, and a bright and engaging children's area.

The main library area benefits from entirely mobile shelving. These can be cleared to create a large open space for community events or reconfigured to best display their latest stock or highlight genres or authors.

The enticing children's area is located at the far end of the space. Filled with colour and tactile furniture the book stock is displayed on lower height Cantilibra™ shelving to encourage browsing and autonomy in selecting their next title.

The Cantilibra™ solution is designed to showcase the books while maintaining a beautiful aesthetic within the library. Functional, scalable, and designed to last, Cantilibra™ brings a touch of modernism without fighting against the overall environment.

The layout of the spaces has been carefully designed by our design team which considers the surface area, the available space, and the needs of the library staff and patrons

With choice of colours and materials, the versatility of our system means we have something for every taste and aesthetic. You can customise the shelving with different colours and finishes and add accessories, to create a truly bespoke design.

Our design team will be delighted to discuss your next amazing space.
